Broom Corn and Its Culture.

This plant is said to be a native of India. The origin of broom corn, as a cultivated product of this country, is attributed to Dr. Franklin. He is said to have accidentally seen an imported whisk of corn in the possession of a lady of Philadelphia, and while examining it as a curiosity, saw a seed, which he planted, and from this small beginning has sprung the present product in the United States, of this useful article. The soil best adapted to the cultivation of this plant, is a sandy soil or loam. The ground is ploughed and thoroughly harrowed immediately before planting. It is planted from the 15th to the 20th of May.—The seed is planted by hand, in rows or drills, three feet apart from centre to centre of row. As soon as it is thoroughly above the ground, it is gone through with a harrow or cultivator to prevent the weeds from rising. In about ten days from this time, it is gone through with a cultivator and thinned to the proper thickness, which is from fifteen to twenty stocks to the square foot in the row, the thickness owing to the amount of vegetable matter contained in the soil. In ten days or two weeks after this, it is ploughed and hoed, and in about the same length of time as last mentioned, it is again ploughed and hoed, the furrow thrown to the row. It is then allowed to stand until it is ready to cut, which is done before the seed fully matures, and when the bush is green. When ready to cut, two rows are broken down crossways together, about two feet from the ground, forming a table. The bush is cut off with five or six inches of stock, and spread on the table to cure. After it has lain twelve or fifteen hours in sunshine, it is gathered in a wagon and hauled to the barn. The seed is then taken off by a hackle or machine made for the purpose. It is then thrown, tops and butts, in a mow or shed, and after it is perfectly dry, is gathered, bound in bundles, and laid away, ready for market. The above theory is adopted by the writer, after considerable experience, and will undoubtedly prove successful in any ordinary season.

Protect the Birds.

The joyous little birds; how cheerless would our rural life be if we had no birds! Suppose we could annihilate all the feathered tribe—what would be the result? Blasted fields of grain, withering forests, and death to our orchards, vineyards, &c. Let us estimate the value of a bird. His music cannot be valued. There is an insect on the wing to deposit its eggs at the root of that favorite pear tree; the bird sees it and soon destroys it, and saves the tree's life. There he is worth $10 to us. Could we see the vegetables, grain, fruit and trees he protects, we would protect his life with all the means within our power. And yet, should he partake of a few of our cherries, he is made to bite the dust. Too many of our farmers make birds the target for their rifles. From the field and forest, we hear but one mighty voice, give us birds! Farmers, see that the bird law is enforced, and if you must use your gun, do so upon your enemy, not upon your friend, which is the bird.

Industry, Pa. J. E

She Couldn't See It.—An Irishman entered a small village ale-house somewhere in New Jersey, and looking round him for a minute, addressed the landlady as follows:

"Missus, sho' me over sixpence worth of ale and sixpence worth of bread."

The bread and ale were set before him. He looks at the one, then at the other, and as if having satisfied his mind on some point, drinks the ale.

"Missus," says he, "I have taken the ale; what's to pay?"

"Sixpence," says she.

"Well, there's the sixpenny loaf," says he; "that pays for the ale."

"But the loaf wasn't paid for," said she.

"Bless yer soul," says he, "I didn't take the loaf."

The landlady couldn't see through it, but Pat could, and walked away.

☞An Army Chaplain, preaching to his soldiers, exclaimed: "If God be with us, who can be against us?" "Jeff Davis and the devil!" promptly exclaimed one of the boys.

Knowing Too Much.

During the administration of President Jackson, there was a singular young gentleman employed in the public post office at Washington. His name was G. He was from Tennessee, the son of a widow, a neighbor of the President, on which account the old hero had a kind feeling for him, and always got him out of his difficulties with some of the highest officials, to whom his singular interference was distasteful.

Among other things, it is said of him, that while he was employed in the General Post office, on one occasion he had to copy a letter to Major H., a high official, in answer to an application made by an old gentleman of Virginia or Pennsylvania, for the establishment of a new Post Office.—The writer of the letter said the application could not be granted, in consequence of the applicant's "proximity to another office." When the letter came into G.'s hands to copy, being a great stickler for plainness, he altered "proximity" to "nearness to." Major H. observed it, and asked G. why he altered his letter.

"Why," replied G., "because I don't think the man would understand what you meant by proximity."

"Well," said Major H. "try him; put in the 'proximity' again."

In a few days a letter was received from the applicant, in which he very indignantly said:

"That his father has fought for liberty in the second war of Independence, and he should like to have the name of the scoundrel who brought the charge of proximity or anything else wrong against them."

"There!" said G., "did I not tell you so?"

G. carried his improvement so far that Mr. Barry, the Postmaster General, said to him: "I do not want you here any longer; you know too much."

Poor G. went out, but his old friend the General got him another place. This time G.'s ideas underwent a change. He was one day very busy writing, when a stranger called in asked him where the Patent Office was.

"I don't know," said G.

"Can you tell me where the Treasury Department is?" said the stranger.

"No," said G.

"Nor the President's House?"

"No."

The stranger finally asked him if he knew where the Capitol was.

"No," replied G.

"Do you live in Washington, sir?" said the stranger.

"Yes, sir," said G.

"Good Lord! and don't know where the Patent Office, Treasury Department, President's House and Capital are?"

"Stranger," said G., "I was turned out of the Post Office for knowing too much. I don't mean to offend in that way again. I am paid for keeping this book. I believe I know that much; but if you find me knowing anything more, you may take my head."

"Good morning," said the stranger.

A Deserter Shot.—Yesterday afternoon, Provost Marshall Wright received intelligence that Kelsey and George Daley, of Beaver county, two deserters from Capt. Darragh's company, 140th Pennsylvania Volunteers, were in the city, and officers of the provost guard were sent to arrest them. The brothers Daley were arrested, and Kelsey walked quietly to the guard-house, alleging that if it had not been for his brother he would not have deserted. George resisted the guard while being taken down, and Sergeant Rizner drew his revolver for the purpose of intimidating him. One of the city watchmen seeing the struggle, and thinking that Sergeant Rizner was going to shoot Daley, interferred, when Daley, made his escape from custody. When the watchman was informed of the true state of the case, he immediately gave chase, with the Sergeant, after Daley, who fled up Fifth street and along Grant. Fearing that he might escape, as he would not halt when commanded, Sergeant Kizner fired his revolver at Daley, the ball penetrating the right shoulder and burying itself under the skin. Daley slackened his speed, and the watchman soon overtook and capured him. The prisoner was taken to the guard-house, and had his wound examined by Dr. Levis. Both of the Daleys are large muscular men, upwards of six feet in height, and deserted from Camp Curtin some time ago. They will be sent to their regiment.—Pitts Commercial 14th inst.

Death of John C. Rives.

John C. Rives, Esq., the proprietor of the Globe newspaper, and published of the debates in congress, died at his residence, near Bladensburg, in Prince George's county, Maryland, on Sunday morning, of rheumatic gout.—He was a native of Kentucky, and was about sixty-nine years of age.—Mr. Rives seemed to be for some time mindful of his approaching dissolution, and had accordingly placed his business in the hands of his son, and made preparations for his burial.—Nevertheless he had regularly attended to business, and mixed in the social circle of friends, indulging in his usual anecdote and humor. He had been a resident of that city most of the time for forty years; first as clerk in the fourth auditor's office of the Treasury Department, afterward as clerk for a short time in the office of Duff Green's United States Telegraph, and finally, by forming a connection with Mr. Blair, and founding the Globe, which for three Administrations, was so powerful a lever upon the public opinion of this country.—After Mr. Richie purchased the Globe, and changed its title to the Union, Messrs. Blair of Rives re-established the Globe, principally for the publication of debates in Congress, and it is now held to be the official record of proceedings. Some three years since Mr. Rives bought out Mr. Blair's interest.

Mr. Rives, by industry, economy and good sense, and without parsimony or injustice to others, accumulated a large fortune. His place of business has for forty years been in Washington, but some twelve or fifteen years ago he built a commodious country residence just within the county of Prince George's, Maryland, on the turnpike between Washington and Bladensburg, and on the few acres which constitutes his farm he has been a successful cultivator on the soil.

Alabama Manners.

In 1844, Henry Clay, whose name is still revered at the North, was a member of the Whig Convention at Baltimore. Of course all the delegates paid their respects to Mr. Clay, and one evening while the great statesman was receiving company, the door opened, and a fine six foot man entered, unannounced. The stranger was fashionably but somewhat astonishingly dressed in a green sporting-coat, with buttons somewhat smaller than the rim of a hat—a bright scarlet plaid vest, divided into a square of eight by ten with bug corduroy continuations. This astonishing "effigy" was "hung in chains" of every style, and wore at his fob a pendant seal, about the size of a steel-yard poise.—On his head was a four foot "Panama," and from an outlandish pocket modestly protruded a package, bearing the magic word, "Highlander;" balanced upon the other side by a pistol from the armory of Colt.

This surprising person, after reaching the centre of the room, paused and took a leisurely survey of those present, and singling out Mr. Clay (who could mistake him?) walked up to him and pronounced the single word—

"Clay?"

"Yes," was the reply of the statesman.

"H. Clay?"

"The same, sir."

"I came from Alabama on purpose to see you; but don't put yourself out on my account. You are a great man, sir; and when I am home I am some; in fact, I often tell our boys that Clay and I are bound to shine, or else what do we live for? Your line and mine are a little different, but we are both pretty near the head. In fact, Hank, what's the use of being a fellow, unless he can be a buster? Henry, good evening!" and the Alabama man took his departure, leaving Mr. Clay overpowered with astonishment at the man's impudence.

An Incident of the War.—A soldier lay in a lady's house badly wounded. A Major General rode up to the door. He got off, went in and sat down by the dying man's side. Taking out a little book, he read from it, "Let not your heart be troubled," &c. He then knelt down and offered up a prayer to God for that dying soldier.

Arising from his knees, he bent down and kissed him and said, "Capt. G——, we shall meet in heaven." He then rode off.

That general was Major General Howard.

Interesting Data of the Thirty-Eighth Congress

In a late number of the Troy Daily Times, we find the following interesting data concerning the members of the present Congress, from its Washington correspondent:

In our opinion—

The best speaker on the Union side is Hon. William D. Kelly, Pennsylvania; on the Democratic side, Hon. D. W. Voorhees, Indiana.

The best parliamentarian, Union side, Hon E. B. Washburne, Illinois; Democrat, Hon. S. S. Cox.

The readiest debater, Union, Hon. John A. Kasson, Iowa; Democrat, Hon. G.H. Pendleton, Ohio. In the last Congress, Hon. John A. Bingham, Ohio, C. L. Vallandigham, Canada.

The member with the best blood is Hon. John Low, Indiana, whose patriot grandfather was a member of the old Continental Congress, 1776. His maternal grandfather was a member of the first Congress under the Constitution, his father was a member of Congress during the war of 1812, and Mr. Low, the present representative, is now serving his second term.

The oldest convention member is Hon. E. B. Washburne, Illinois, who has held his seat for eleven years. In the last Congress, was Hon. John S. Phelps, Missouri, who was a Colonel in the Union army, and had been in Congress for eighteen years.

The oldest man is Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Pennsylania, who is almost 72 years old.

The youngest is Gen. James A. Garfield, who is only 32 years old. Hon. Ignatius Donnoly, Minnesota, is just sixteen days older.

Hon. Walter D. McIndoe, Wisconsin, a very efficient gentleman, has only one hand.

The General of highest rank is Major-General Robert C. Schenck, whose commission dates from August 30th, 1862. The other Generals are Garfield, Ohio; Dumont, Indiana; Blair, Missouri.

The Colonels are Col. Green Clay Smith; Kentucky; Col. Amasa Cobb, Wisconsin; Col. Ephraim R. Eckley, Ohio; Col. Henry C. Demming, Connecticut. Col Demming was Mayor for over two years, of New Orleans, under the reign of Gen. Butler. The other Colonels are Col. Robert B. Van Valkenburg, New York; Col. Sempronius H. Boyd, Missouri; Col. Joseph W. McClurg, Missouri, and Col. John F. Farnsworth, Illinois, who acted as General for some time.

The handsomest man is Hon. William Windom, Minnesota.

The wealthiest man is Hon. Oakes Ames, a manufacturer from Massachusetts, who is worth over two millions.

The most rapid speaker is the Speaker, Hon Schuyler Colfax, Indiana.

The tallest man is Hon. Brutus J. Clay, Kentucky.

The shortest members are J. W. McClurg, Missouri, Augustus Brandegee, Connecticut; Nehemiah Perry, New Jersey; Francisco Perea, New Mexico; the difference to be decided by the respective thickness of the soles.

The smallest member is the Hon. S. S. Cox; largest is Hon. D. Baldwin, Massachusetts.

The most productive—Gen. Ebenezer Dumont, the father of nineteen children.

The most graceful man is Hon. William H. Wadsworth, Kentucky.

The most dignified man is Hon. Rufus F. Spaulding, Ohio.

The most sarcastic man is Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Pennsylvania.

The most social man is Gen. F. P. Blair, Missouri.

The member who has sent away the most speeches is S. S. Cox, this Congress; the least, Hon B. Wood, the speech Fernando wrote.

The cleverest man is Hon. James M. Marvin, New York.

The largest farmer on the Union side is Hon. Josiah B. Grinnell, Iowa, who has 6,000 acres of land, and keeps 6,000 sheep. The big farmer on the "other side" is a good substantial Union man, Brutus J. Clay, Kentucky, who own 6,500 acres of land, and whose home farm contains two thousand acres, worth $150 per acre. Mr. Clay has two hundred and seventy five negroes, fifty mules, two hundred sheep, one hundred and fifty blooded cattle—some of the most famous in the United States. His usual stock of cattle is about four hundred head.

The still man is Hon. James C. Robinson, Illinois.

The member who never fails to move an amendment, is Hon. William S Holman, Indiana.

The member who lives the farthest East is Hon. Frederick A. Pike, Me. West, Hon. John R. McBride Oregon. North, Hon. I. Donnelly, Minnesota. South, Cornelius Cole, California, whose district reaches down to Mexico.

Hon. James Brooks is the best read man, and has a district of the smallest area—three wards in the city of New York.

Idaho is the largest Territory, and has an area of 326,373 square miles.—Mr. Donnelly, of Minnesota, has the largest district of any any member—590 miles wide.

The House has twenty-five members with bald heads, thirty with mustaches and two with wigs.

Hon. Henry Winter Davis lives the nearest, thirty nine miles, and $32 for mileage, Hon. William H. Wallace, of Idaho, travels 7,997 miles, and gets $6,397 60 for mileage.

The politest member is Hon. Reuben E. Fenton, New York.

The most gallant is Hon. F. W. Kellogg, Michigan.

The dryest joker is Hon. Rob't Mallory, of Ky.

Three members represent each a State—Messrs. Smithers, Delaware, McBride, Oregon, and Wilder, Kansas.

There are seventeen members who are slaveholders.

There are twenty four members from slave States, of whom fourteen vote with the Union party and ten with the Democrats.

The best penman is Hon. Augustus Frank, New York; the poorest, Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Penn'a.

The most radical man is Hon. Owen Lovejoy, Illinois—[since dead].

The most "conservative," running into "secesh"—this is where it always runs—is Hon. Benjamin G. Harris, Maryland.

The member who is always there, sound and true, Hon. Henry L. Dawes, [illegible] Wood, New York.

The most venerable is Hon. Francis Thomas, Maryland.

The snow-capped and gold bound district, Colorado—Hon. H. P. Bennet, delegate.

The Red River Country.—The theatre of operation of the late expedition up Red river, is comparatively little known to many persons, and for the benefit of such we publish the following short account of the principle points upon that stream. The Red river country is proverbial for its wealth and resources, and is one of the richest cotton-growing regions in in the South.

Shreveport, the capital of Caddo parish, Louisiana, situated near the foot of Caddo Lake, in the North-western part of the State, is the great cotton part of the region. It is finely located for business on the Red river, being surrounded by an exceedingly fertile planting region. Some fifty thousand bales of cotton were annually shipped from this place before the war, and a very large number of cattle from Texas. The town contains a large number of stores, several steam mills, churches, a printing office, and a resident population of about three thousand. Since the rebellion, Shrevesport has been an extensive depot for commissary and other stores for the trans-Mississippi Confederate troops, and up to the time of the siege of Vicksburg, formed an important link in the "chain of supplies" for the whole rebel army. There is a military prison there, which has, at times, contained a large number of Federal captives of war. It is two hundred and thirty miles from the mouth of the river.

Alexandria, one hundred and fifty miles from the mouth, is, we believe, the highest point on Red river yet visited by our troops. Eighty miles above is Natchitoches, and old French town settled in 1713. It is noted in history as the scene of a hard fought battle between the inhabitants and the Natchez Indians in 1732, resulting in the extinction of the Natchez as a distinct nation.

From Shreveport there runs a railroad westward to Marshall, Texas, and sixteen miles behind making a line some sixty miles in length. Many years ago a route was projected to Vicksburg, which was completed from the latter place west as far as the Ouachita river.

☞The rebels don't bury their own dead half the time. If their poor fellows don't assume the offensive before death, they certainly do after it.

Mrs President Harrison.

Genuine piety is more common in the higher circles of political life than superficial observers are aware, and it is often found in great beauty and strength. Many Senators and Representatives in Washington are as faithful to there God as to their country; and in the White House a consistent piety has at times adorned the highest station. A correspondent of the New York Evangelist gives a charming sketch of the character of the late Mrs. Harrison, who for many years was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, and a liberal contributor to all benevolent objects, and who seemed never dazzled by her elevation and prosperity. The writer says:

As the wife of the President of the United States, she appeared the same modest unassuming woman as before her elevation to so high a position of honor. When General Harrison went to Washington, she remained at her home at North Bend. After his death, she lived retired in the bosom of her own family, where she sought to hide herself from the public gaze. She never afterwards appeared in public. She saw no society but that of her family and special friends. A stranger rarely, if ever, was admitted to her room. The writer, although the pastor of the church of which he was an honored member, obtained his first introduction to her only after some months' residence in the place. But after our first interview, we were always cheerfully admitted to her room. And never did she fail to call all the family together for reading the Scriptures and for prayer. Now she is no more, it is pleasent to remember those seasons when—in her room, neatly, modestly furnished—we bowed together around the throne of heavenly grace to supplicate blessings upon the head of our venerated friend and her household. Such seasons she always seemed to enjoy with a high spiritual relish. Her health for many years was exceedingly feeble, and she was rarely able to leave her house, or even her room. In only one instance during a ministry of nearly three years, was she able to visit the house of God. It was a communion season; and she often referred to it as one of high spiritual enjoyment. And yet she loved the house of God, and when her health would permit, was a constant attendant. She was a truly a spiritual minded woman.

☞A Pleasant sketch of the Washburne family appears in the Boston Journal, written by Wm. A. Drew, of Augusta, Maine. There are seven sons in the family all of whom occupy prominent positions. Israel, Jr., (late Congressman) the first born, is fifty years old and Collector of the Port of Portland; Elihu B. began life as a printer's boy and is now a member of Congress from Illinois; Cadwallader C. had made a fortune in Wisconsin and is now Major General in our army in Louisiana; Charles A. is American minister in Paraguay; Algernon Sidney, never coveting political life, has been and still is in the banking business in Maine; Samuel R. went to sea early and is now a captain in our navy; William D. is Surveyor General of Government lands in Minnesota.

The Women of a Nation.—We do not hesitate to say that the women give to every nation a moral temperament, which shows itself in its politics. A hundred times we have seen weak men show real public virtue, because they had by their sides wome who supported them, not by advice as to particulars, but by fortifying their feelings of duty, and by directing their ambition. More frequently, we must confess, we have observed the domestic influence gradually transforming a man, naturally generous, noble, and unselfish, into a cowardly, commonplace, place-hunting, self-seeker, thinking of public business only as a means of making himself comfortable—and this simply by contact with a well conducted woman, with a faithful wife, an excellent mother, but from whose mind the grand notion of public duty was entirely absorbed.

A Fu Remarks by Josh Billings.—Moral swashun consists in asking a man to do what he ought to do without asking, an then beggin his pardon if he refuses to du it.

I hav finelly kum to the konklooslon that a good, reliable set ov bowels is worth more tu a man than enny quantety of branes.

Music hath charms to suthe a savage; this may be so, but I'd rather tri a rewolwer on him fust.

It always seemed to me that a left handed fiddler must pla the toon backwards.

I have often been told that the best wa iz tu take a "bull bi the horns," but I think in many instanzes I shood prefer the "tale holt."

Tha tell me that femails are skarse in the western kuntry, that a grate menny married wimmen are already engaged to thare seckond an thurd husbinds.

☞A poor poet, desiring a compliment, asked Curran—referring to his recently published poem of that name—"Have you read my descent into Hell?" "No; I should like to see it," replied the wit. A prosy member of Parliament having asked him, "have you read my last speech?" he replied, "I hope I have."

Immensity of Universe.—As a proof of what a vast book the visible heavens are, and also of the diligence of the student, man, in turning over its leaves, Dr. Nichol, in his work describing the magnitude of Lord Rosse has looked into a space so inconceivable, that light which travels at the rate of 200,000 miles in one second, would require a period of 250,000,000 of solar years, each year containing about 132,000,000 of seconds, to pass the intervening gulf between this earth and the remotest point to which this telescope has reached.—How utterly unable is the mind to grasp even a fraction of this immense period. To concive the passing events of a hundred thousand years only, is an impossibility, to say nothing of millions and hundreds of millions of years.

Reading and Conversation.—Our reading will be of little use without conversation. Conversation will be apt to run low without reading.—Reading trims the lamp and conversation lights it; reading is the food of the mind, and conversation the exercise. And as all things are strengthened by exercise, so is the mind by conversation. There we shake off the dust and stiffness of a recluse, scholastic life; our opinions are confirmed and corrected by the good opinions of others; points are urged, doubts are solved, difficulties cleared, directions given, and frequently hints started which, if pursued, would lead to the most useful truths, like a vein of silver or gold which directs to a mine

☞A father and his son were jogging comfortably towards a neighboring town, when the father volunteered the following advice: "Now, my sonny," says he, "when we get there, you keep your mouth shut, and no one will find out that you are a fool.' When they arrived at the public inn, there happened to be several gentlemen present who had a pleasant word and smile for the youth, but all their inquiries failed to elicit any replies from him, when a gentleman spoke to a friend in an undertone. "I guess that boy must be a fool." Whereupon the boy hearing this, called out to his father: "Father, they've found it out!"

☞Judah P. Benjamin, who is now playing a most conspicuous part in the grand drama of the rebellion, delivered a lecture in San Francisco before the war, in which he said, on the subject of disunion, that those who prate of and strive to dissolve this glorious confederacy of States are like those silly savages who let fly their arrows at the sun, in the vain hope of piercing it, and still the sun rolls on, unheeding, in the eternal pathway, shedding light and heat and animation upon all the world

Austrian vs Prussian Soldiers.—The Copenhagen papers state that the Austrian soldiers fight better and are more brave than the Prussians. Also that the Austrians treat their prisoners with more humanity than the Prussians. The papers aforesaid we believe only confirm what in former years had been often asserted. During the Italian campaign, the Austrians were fully equal to the French, and had they been properly armed and handled, the victory might not have resulted as it did.

☞The late Archbishop of Dublin was famous as a wit. Some of his quips and repartees are worth recording. "What is the difference," he asked of a young clergyman he was examining, "between a form and a ceremony? The meaning seems nearly the same, yet there is a very nice distinction." Various answers were given. "Well," he said, "it lies in this; you sit upon a form but you stand upon ceremony."

☞Meinherr von Dunck attended at court in New York to get excused from the jury-box. "I can't unsthand goct Englese," quoth Meinherr.—"What did he say?" asked the judge. "I can't unsthand goot Englese" repeated the Dutchman. "Take your seat. That's no excuse; you need not be alarmed, as you are not likely to hear any."

☞A little daughter of a proprietor of a coal mine in Pennsylvania was inquisitive as to the nature of a hell, upon which her father represented it to be a large gulf of fire of the most prodigious extent. "Pa," said she, "couldn't you get the devil to buy coal of you?"

☞A few days ago, an insane, crazy individual effected an entrance into the apartment of the President, at the White House, and attempted to harangue Mr Lincoln upon the Presidency, claiming to have been elected President in 1850.

The Copperhead Platform Set Forth in Congress.

On the 8th inst., a man named Alexander Long, elected by the copperheads in 1862 to represent the Cincinnati district in Congress, belched forth the treason of the party which elected him, in rough but plain and unequivical language This fellow Long is a coarse, vulgar, illiterate and infamous exponent of the party which is falsely called Democratic. He is a man of no standing, no character or ability, but is one of those reckless and unprincipled demagogues, who are occasionally elected by the lowest and most degraded beings who sometimes make up the majority in our great cities. He is one of those men who may sometimes be found, who are willing to be infamous that they make themselves famous In the speech which he made in Congress he declared that the war for the Union was wrong—that the Southern Slaveholding States had a right to secede, and that he was in favor of recognizing the independence of the Southern Confederacy. This treasonable doctrine was promptly and decidedly endorsed by the ruffian Harris, of Maryland, and that infernal scoundrel and traitor, Fernando Wood, of New York. Two worse men do not exist on the earth; yet they are the leaders of the so-called Democratic party in Congress, and express the sentiments of the whole party in the United States.

This Fernando Wood, the true representative of the blackguards and ruffians of New York, some time ago offered a resolution in Congress for the appointment of Commissioners to go to Richmond to negotiate a a peace upon any terms with the rebel leaders now in arms for the destruction of our Republican Government— that is this leader of the Democracy who was willing to crawl upon his belly through the mud of Virginia to kiss the feet of the men who have repeatedly proclaimed their fixed and unalterable determination to agree upon no terms whatever, except upon the unconditional recognition of their slaveholding government. They treat with scorn and contempt every offer made to them, and they despise the miserable copperheads of the North, who with the most dastardly and disgusting meanness, make any offers of compromise. Why are the offers of peace and compromise so often made and advocated in Congress, in our State Legislatures, by copperhead members? Because it is the plan adopted by the leaders of giving encouragement to the rebels, saying to them hold on, and continue to destroy the lives of our brave and patriotic soldiers and do all you can to destroy the hopes of down-trodden everywhere, and we will, with the aid of foreign powers, soon be able to give you such assistance as will enable you to dictate your own terms of separation at Washington. We will then share with you the glory of having destroyed the best Government that ever existed on the earth.

The members of the House of Representatives, calling themselves Democrats, not only voted to permit Long and Harris to retain their seats and proclaim their infamy and their treason, but many of them advocated the right of any member to speak forth his sentiments, however treasonable and repulsive to the patriotic sentiments of the country. They say that the freedom of speech is not to be restrained. Upon the same ground freedom of action is not to be restrained, and every blatant copperhead has a right to take up arms for the overthrow of the Government, without molestation. If freedom of speech is allowed at a time when the life of our Government is imperiled at the hands of traitors, then truly are the hands of national authorities paralized, and the enemies of our cause strengthed and encouraged.—Under the Administration of the imbecile Buchanan, the Southern traitors in Congress were permitted, with impunity, to utter boldly and fearlessly their disunion sentiments, even while they sat and deliberated in the halls of Congress, under the flag of our country, and bound by the solemn obligation of an oath to be faithful to the Constitution and Government.—Yet what did the exercise of this privilege claimed by them lead to?—Why it lead to armed resistence against Constitution and laws, and to the present attempts to overthrow the Government. But it is wholly unnecessary to argue this point to intelligent and patriotic cititizens. It is clearly the duty of Congress to purge itself of every disloyal member, to expel every reckless and unprincipled demagogue, who dares to utter treason, whether on the floor or in the streets, and if Congress fails from the fact that more than one-third of its number is composed of traitors and sympathizers of treason to do its duty, then it certainly becomes the duty of the Executive to have the traitors arrested and punished for their wicked and flagitious conduct.

Whatever may be done by Congress or the Executive, the country will hold the leaders of the Democratic party responsible for the speeches of these men in Congress. They have refused, by their votes, to expel them under the resolution of Mr. Colfax, offered for that purpose, or even to censure them, and the reason is that they but represented the views of the leaders in the North, although they were considered by some of them as premature. They consider that the conspiracy to operate in favor of the rebels should not have been divulged until the Chicago Convention, when the whole party in the North could be united against the Government, and they could have the power to say in the language of the Pennsylvania Woodward, "Withdraw our armies North of Mason and Dixon's line, and recall our blockading fleets." Then the Northern fanatic abolitionists will be under our heels.

The leaders of the party, or rather the members of the copperhead party in Congress, had better go South, and join their friends at Richmond, for they entirely agree with Jeff. Davis and his friends. They have all alike violated their duty to their country and their God, have all alike been guilty of the most damnable perjury.

For Jeff. Davis and many of his coconspirators violated their oaths, by trampling under foot the Constitution which they had sworn to support, and the present members, when taking their seats, swore that they had not and would not do or say anything that would give aid and encouragement to the rebels, and that they had not been and would not be concerned in rebellion against the Government. This they have already violated; for every day they manifest their hatred of the Government of the United States and their love of the cause of treason. It is certainly fortunate for the cause of freedom, that these men in their wild and savage ravings have ventilated the sentiments of the great leaders of the copperhead party.—We now know where to find them.—It needs no argument now to convince the loyal men of the country that the leaders of the Democratic party are acting in harmony and sympathy with the southern traitors.

But we thank God that there is yet a large number who have heretofore acted with them as a party, who are at heart true to their country, and who when they find that they are in bad company will join themselves to the friends of the Union. The insane ravings of the men who have uttered foulest treason and disgusted the whole nation will drive from their ranks thousands of good men who have heretofore been misled, and the friends of the Union will stand firm together and battle, we have no doubt, successfully, for the life of the nation, and when our brave and self-sacrificing soldiers, now in the field, return after triumphantly crushing out Southern treason, the copperheads of the North may tremble, for a terrible fate awaits them in the withering scorn of all good men.

Gold Gambling.

The great extent to which this speculating mania is carried in New York by reckless speculators, has caused great apprehension amongst men of sober judgment, who are not influenced by the feverish fluctuations to which gold has been subjected by those manipulations who are interested in alternately inflating and depressing the price. What do our readers think of such a transaction as this: One day last week the price of gold started at ten minutes before ten o'clock at 1,801. In three minutes it had advanced to 1,81; thirteen minutes still later it had run up to 1,85, and twenty minutes later it had got up to the figure of 1.89. Thus, in less than an hour, gold had advanced nine per cent. This was at twelve minutes past ten o'clock, but in sixteen minutes more, or twenty-eight minutes past ten it had declined to 1,82, and at night it closed at 1,74, or fifteen per cent. less than it had attained at twelve minutes past ten o'clock.

Now, this is nothing more than the most shameless gambling. It is humiliating and disgraceful in the extreme, and when it is known that, all this time, the Government was offering gold at 1,65, it becomes ridiculous, and frightfully so. It is stated that the papers are conniving at the deception, and that while gold is publicly stated to have gone up to 1,89, it is only at 1,65. Thus a monstrous lie is palmed off upon the unsuspecting ones, while the clever managers, who are operating in the market, have only to purchase at 1,65, and immediately sell it at 1,89. Such bare-faced swindling one would think impossible, even in New York. But it is there practiced openly, and thousands of poor dupes are fleeced as coolly and as completely as at any gambling hell in San Francisco.

The same feverish speculation is also manifested in stocks of all descriptions, railroad corporations, whose bonds are not worth fifty cents on the dollar, are run up to twenty, thirty and sixty cents premium, and, find ready sale at even these highest figures. The obvious result of all this wild and inordinate desire for gain, cannot but be manifest to any one who will pause long enough to consider a moment. Ruin—complete, desolating ruin and bankruptcy—cannot fail to overtake many who are now worth thousands.

We hope Congress will soon take measures to stop this gigantic gambling, for it is nothing less, and so put an end to a course which must inevitably ruin thousands of unsuspecting fools, who, in their insane efforts to become rich, are made the sport of clever gamblers and stock jobbers who, when once they have plucked their unfortunate geese will turn them off with contempt.

Meeting in Behalf of the Pittsburg Sanitary Fair.

We invite the special attention of the people of this county, to the call for a public meeting at the Court House, in Beaver, on the 28th inst., in behalf of the most laudable, humane and patriotic object. The care of the sick and wounded men who are now, and have been, engaged in battle, periling their lives, and forsaking all the comforts and happiness of home and friends, demands at our hands every sacrifice in our power. Forty thousand of our brave soldiers are now languishing in the hospitals, and as soon as the spring campaign opens thousands will be added to their number.

Every patriotic and humane feeling will prompt those who are living in comparative comfort and prosperity at home, to awake to the necessity of prompt and liberal action. Every part of the North seems to be aroused in this good cause, and it behooves Beaver county, which has already done so much to support the government and to encourage our brave armies, and has contributed so many of our best men in the glorious cause, to be up and doing.

Let every man attend and give his aid and counsel. Our own soldiers in the field will feel that they have kind friends at home who take a deep interest in their welfare and safety.—Their arms will be strengthened in the hour of mortal conflict, by the knowledge that their noble efforts to save their country is appreciated.

The city of Pittsburg, and the surrounding counties, are moving in this matter most vigorously. Let the people of Beaver county show, too, that they are awake to the importance of this great matter.

Come all, and show your good will and determination to aid as far as you can, in supporting the brave men who are suffering for your liberty, your safety and all you hold dear on earth.

DOGS TO BE TAXED.—The Committee of Ways and Means reported a bill taxing the owners of all dogs in the State, at the rate of one dollar for the first, and two dollars per annum for each additional dog.

Another Struggle for Richmond.

The spring campaign, so far as we are able to judge from present appearances, promises to be another great struggle for the possession of the Capital of the Southern Confederacy.—Gen. Grant is evidently preparing for a simultaneous movement upon the enemy by the armies East and West. We are to have what we have long wished for, a definite plan with the cooperation of all the forces in the field in its execution. What that plan is exactly, we cannot of course pretend to say; but judging from present indications, the capture of Richmond is part of the programme. Richmond may be taken either by way of Fredericksburg, the Peninsula, or North Carolina. Two of these routes, viz: by way of the Peninsula and Fredericksburg, have been tried ineffectually heretofore, when, had there been a cooperation from other quarters, success might have crowned the efforts.—When M'Clellan made his advance by way of the Peninsula, had there been a force advancing by way of Fredericksburg, and another by way of North Carolina, the rebel army must necessarily have been divided, and the capture of the city certain, notwithstanding M'Clellan's delays and indifference. Gen. Grant is now disposing of the forces under his command with a view, as we believe and trust, to control and advance by each of these approaches. We hear of activity and preparation in Gen. Butler's Department looking to offensive operations on the Peninsula again Gen. Burnside is massing his troops at Annapolis, with the evident intention of striking somewhere, most probably in North Carolina. The Army of the Potomac is reported ready for a forward movement, only waiting good roads and other necessary arrangements.

In the West, Gen. Sherman is holding his forces in readiness for the forward movement. Everything indicates a united effort and an active campaign. Let our armies all move forward at once, pressing close to the enemy in every quarter, thus preventing their withdrawing from one place to relieve another, and with our superiority of numbers, equipments, and endurance, the result cannot fail to be advantages, victories and triumphs for us. We see more to encourage us now than at any time heretofore, and soon we hope to chronicle the fall of Richmond, the destruction of Lee's army, and the speedy end in view the overthrow of the rebellion Gen Grant is pursuing the right plan, and we confidently trust the execution will be all that is desired and anticipated. Four Generals have failed in the attempts heretofore made to capture Richmond, we hope a fifth, profiting by their experience, may be more successful. More than four Generals failed to conquer Hannibal, but at last a Scipio was found to lead the Roman army to victory. Let us hope we have found a Scipio, whose efforts, like that great Roman General's, may all be crowned with success—who will relieve us in our extremity, restore the freedom of the Republic, and overthrow and subdue all its enemies.

Beaver County.

"Zeisberger and other Moravians, who established a Mission in 1770, were the first white settlers in Beaver county. The Indians who then frequented this region were the Six Nations, the Shawnees, and Delawares. The same year Washington examined it to select land for the soldiers of the French war. In 1778, Ft. McIntosh, near the present site of Beaver, was built. During the next seventeen years the country was so much infested by the Indians, as to be incapable of habitation. This state of things was ended by Wayne's treaty, in 1795. A rush of settlers then occurred, but the land titles of the North west corner of the State had been rendered so intricate by previous legislation, and by the conflicting claims of land companies and of individuals, that for several years its improvement was materially retarded. In 1800, the county was separately organized, taking its name from the Beaver river. It was previously embraced in Allegheny co. In 1805, the land controversies were terminated by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States—since which time its improvement has been steady."—[State Book.

Extracts from Gen. M'Call's Report of the Peninsula Campaign.

We make the following extracts from the report of Gen. M'Call. He pays Capt. Cuthbertson a very high compliment for his good conduct in the several battles on the Peninsula, which we are sure was not undeserved:

* * * The conduct of the Pennsylvania Reserves on this hard fought field is worthy of all praise, as is fully attested by their stubborn resistance and their heavy loss in killed and wounded. Besides the officers I have already named I am greatly indebted to the gallant commander of the Second Brigade, Geo. G. Meade, who rendered me efficient aid until his wounds compelled him to leave the field. My thanks are likewise due to Colonel Roberts commanding First Regiment; Col. Sickles, commanding Third Regiment; Colonel Hays, commanding Eighth Regiment; Colonel Jackson and Captain Cuthbertson, of Ninth Regiment, and other brave officers not commanding regiments, of whom Lieutenant-Colonel McEntire and Major Wollerton are among the many wounded. I must also name as entitled to favorable notice Acting Division Surgeon Stocker, who accompanied me in the early part of the day and assisted in communicating my orders until slightly wounded in the wrist by the fragment of a shell. Indeed to all are my best thanks and praises due for bravely contributing to the important results, namely, the defence of the immense supply train while passing that point and holding the enemy in check upon the New Market road, where he strove desperately to cut in two the retiring column of the Army of the Potomac.

* * * I have stated that both my flanks were unavoidably more or less exposed; that on the left I have already described. On the right, more than one hour later in the day, Randall's Battery was charged upon by the enemy in great force, and with a reckless impetuosity I never saw equaled, they advanced over a space of six hundred yards of open ground. The guns of the battery mowed them down at every discharge, yet they never paused. A volley of musketry was poured into them at short distance, by the Fourth Regiment, in support of the battery, but it did not check them for an instant; they dashed on and bayoneted or pistoled the canoniers at their guns. Part of the Fourth gave way; the remainder, however, with part of the Seventh in their rear (then coming forward) stood their ground like heroes. I was with the battery at the time, and it was my fortune to witness, in the bayonet fight that there took place, such a display of reckless daring on the part of the Alabamians, and of unflinching courage on the part of the Pennsylvanias, as is rarely beheld. My men were, however, overpowered by numbers and borne off the ground. The battery was taken, but immediately abandoned by the enemy, who rapidly retired. These reverses on the flanks were the only serious discomfitures during the day. (See report of Assistant-Adjutant-General Clarke, Captain Cuthbertson, Colonel Roberts, Lieutenant Watmough, A. D. C., and others, herewith). Just before sunset, about 7 o'clock P. M., at least two hours after Hooker reported my whole Division completely routed, Cooper's Battery, in front of the centre was, after several charges had been repulsed, finally taken by the enemy, but only to be retaken by the Ninth Regiment, in a most glorious charge, (see Captain Cuthbertson's report), wherein the standard of the Tenth Alabama was captured by private William J Gallagher, of company F, who killed the rebel color bearer and seized the standard, which he presented to me on the ground.

Captain John Cuthbertson, 9th Reg. Pa. Reserves, to General McCall.

[Extract].

"WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 1862.—General:—In answer to questions by you relative to the conduct of the Ninth Regiment at the battle of New Market Cross Roads, June 30th, I would respectfully reply, this regiment at commencement of action was placed in support of Cooper's Battery. The enemy consumed a couple of hours in a number of ineffectual attemps to take this battery, several times charging up within a few yards of the guns, but each time driven back with slaughter. About six o'clock this regiment was ordered to the left, the enemy apparently making headway in that direction, and moved to the position assigned, leaving other troops to support the battery. When the enemy on the left was repulsed, we moved to the rear of the battery which had just been taken by the enemy. The regiment was ordered to retake the battery and the men advanced, cheering lustily, to the attack, although it was in possession of a superior force, and the enemy defended it with great vigor. A hand to hand struggle ensued, muskets were clubbed and bayonets were used, the enemy were driven from the guns, fleeing in great confusion, our men after them, to the road leading to Richmond.—Here our men were with difficulty halted, I having to catch hold of the color bearer to stop him. The regiment then fell back. Soon after a body of the enemy, several times our number, came up and were at once engaged, our men behaving with a valor and heroism that could not be surpassed. Although not over fifty yards separated us from the enemy, and officers and men fell rapidly under the terrible fire, not a man faltered. In a few minutes a musket ball passed through my thighs; it was then nearly dark, and as I was carried off I could see my gallant comrades were still maintaining the unequal contest with a recklessness of life that astonishes me now, when I calmly reflect on it. As nearly as I can estimate it was near eight o'clock when I was wounded.

I was senior Captain, temporarily in command of the regiment at the time. This regiment, during the battle, was not at any time in the rear of the line of battle adopted by you.

JOHN CUTHBERTSON,
Senior Captain 9th Reg. Pa. Reserves.

County Meeting

IN BEHALF AND AID OF THE

"PITTSBURGH SANITARY FAIR."

The undersigned having been requested by the Executive Committee of the "Pittsburg Sanitary Fair," to "call a public meeting to interest the citizens" of Beaver county, "in the cause," do most earnestly invite the citizens of Beaver county to meet in COUNTY CONVENTION, in the Court House, in Beaver, on Thursday the 28th of April, 1864, at 10 o'clock, A. M. to appoint an Executive County Committee, and also a committee in each township, and to take such other measures as may be deemed best calculated to effectively carry out, so far as Beaver county is concerned, the humane, praise-worthy and patriotic objects of the "Pittsburg Sanitary Fair."

In view of the great and laudable cause for which the Fair is to be held, commencing in the City of Allegheny, on the 1st day of June next, we urgently appeal to the citizens of our county to come up to the great exigency of the occasion, and resolve that Beaver county, whose record since the rebellion commenced has remained honorable and bright, shall not now suffer tarnish or damage by any indifference or neglect on the part of her citizens to aid in contributing relief and comfort to the wants, wounds and sufferings of some Forty Thousand sick and wounded soldiers now in the hospitals of the government, and to the many thousands more who may be expected to be found there in a few weeks. We ask that there be a full turn out on the 28th of this month Come up with humane, zealous, patriotic and liberal feelings, to assist in comforting, consoling and encouraging our brave soldiers, who left the comforts and endearment of home to defend the life of our nation, our own lives, our liberty, our property, our firesides, and all that is dear and sacred to human existence.

THOMAS CUNNINGHAM,
EDWARD HOUPS,
WM. P. TOWNSEND,
April 16, 1864 Committee.

J. I. REED, Co. Supt.

Enon Station, Apr. 15, '64.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, dispatches were recieved here of Gen. Sherman, confirming the surrender of Fort Pillow, and the brutal conduct of the rebels immediately afterwards, which bids fair to be amply retaliated in that quarter in due time. The Star says according to Gen. Sherman's report our loss was 50 white troops killed and 100 wounded, and 300 black troops murdered in cold blood after the surrender. Fort Pillow is an isolated post of no value what ever to the defence of Columbus, and utterly untenable by the rebels, who have no doubt left the vicinity ere this, having been disappointed with considerable loss, in the objects of their raid, which was the capture of Columbus, whence they were promptly and severely repulsed with no loss to us.

There is the best authority for denying the truth of a rumor current in Washington that Gen. Grant had had trouble with the Secretary Stanton respecting the movement of troops, and that the President had sustained Gen. Grant. It is averred, however, that Gen. Halleck had been remiss in carrying out Gen. Grant's instructions.

HARRISBURG, April 14, 1864.

The bill to pay interest upon the State debt of Pennsylvania for the future in legal tender notes passed the Senate, after an exciting debate lasting all night, and until 12 o'clock this morning. It only awaits the Governor's signature to become a law, and will be signed promptly.

The New Orleans "Bee" of the 7th inst. says that the French occupied Matamoras without a blow, and that two regiments had been landed and all communication with the interior was for the time being cut off.

Payment of the Militia.

Arrangements for the payment of the Pennsylvania Emergency troops, called into service by the Governor in September, 1862, will be completed. To facilitate the work, I have divided the State into three districts, with a supervising paymaster for each, viz:

First District, Major Taggart, at Philadelphia, embraces the counties of Berks, Bucks, Carbon, Chester, Delaware, Lehigh, Montgomery, Northampton, Philadelphia Schuylkill, and Wayne.

Second District: Major D. H. McBhail, at Harrisburg. The counties of Adams, Blair, Bradford, Cambria, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lancaster, Lebanon, Luzerne, Lycoming, Mifflin, Montour, Northumberland, Perry, Snyder, Union, Wyoming, and York.

Third District: Major Russell Errett, at Pittsburg. The counties of Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Crawford, Erie, Indiana, Lawrence, Warren, Washington and Westmoreland.

These, as appears from the returns to the Adjutant General of the State, are all the counties in which were organized any of the troops in question.

Any information desired by parties interested will promptly be furnished on application to the proper superintending paymaster.

Each of the named supervising officers will arrange the details within his district, looking to the convenience of claimants and the finishing of the work assigned him, with the least practicable delay. He will designate the points and dates of rendezvous, and the paymasters to officiate at each. These, at the proper time, he will have announced in the newspapers of the district.

Where the officers or soldier cannot be present at his designated place of rendezvous, to sign the rolls, the payment may be made to his attorney upon power duly executed.

Form will not be exacted. The simple authority, in few words, sign and receive, will be sufficient. But in all cases the power must be acknowledged before a notary, justice or other magistrate. If the first, his seal notarial must be affixed. If the others, the exemplification under the seal of a court of record.

These conditions are indispensable, to protect the Government against fraud.

B. W. BRICE, Chief Paymaster.

A CANDID STATEMENT.—You can procure of any druggist in this city and vicinity, Dr. Tobias Venetian Liniment. It is a sure and speedy cure for sore throat, headache, toothache, chroic rheumatism, colic, croups and pains in the limbs. We advise every one to give it a trial. The expense is a mere trifle—25 cents—and we are confident no person will ever be without it. Every family should have a bottle in the house in case of sudden accidents, such as cuts, burns, scalds, &c. Its pain-relieveing qualities are miraculous. As for croup, it has saved hundreds; we have the certificates to prove it. Office, 56 Cortlandt Street, New-York. Sold by Druggists.

A story is related of an enterprising editor in an interior town, who finding the body of a man hanging to a lamp post one night, after he had gone to press, cut it down and carried it home, to prevent his rival from publishing the news, and was himself indicted for murder.

Frank Blair, is is said, will resign his seat in Congress on the 20th, and immediately proceed to join his corps in the Southwest.

Dr. Thos. Donehoo, late of Wellsville, Ohio, having located in Beaver, will receive calls at his office in the Southern extremity of the National Hotel, in this place.

MARRIED:

On the 15th of March, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. D. W. Carson, Mr. HENRY M. CAMPBELL to Miss B. L. SMITH, both of Raccoon tp., Beaver county.

DIED:

April 7th, 1864, at the residence of his father, in New Brighton, B. F. WILSON, in the 25th year of his age.

His illness was a lingering one, and he profited by it, to prepare himself for the realms of eternal peace.

At his late residence, No. 483 Eleventh street, Washington, D. C., Friday morning, April 1, 1864, Mr. STEWART S. BOYD, aged 34 years.

The deceased was formerly a resident of New Castle, Lawrence county, Penna. Having long been a steamboatman on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, he had acquired a large and extended acquaintance. His great social qualities were such as to make him a favorite among his host of friends, alike beloved and admired.—Dying away from home, and though absent from relatives, it is a source of gratification to know that, during his brief illness, he was attended by warm and devoted friends, who paid the last tribute to their departed companion.

"Green be the turf above thee,
Friend of our former days.
None knew thee but to love thee,
None named thee but to praise."

J. H. S.

On the 18th inst., Mr. WM. B. McGAFFICK, of Brighton township.

NEW BRIGHTON RETREAT.

AN ASYLUM FOR THE RECEPTION, CURE AND TREATMENT OF MENTAL ALIENATION OR DISORDER.

And Other Nervous and Chronic Diseases.

EXCLUSIVELY FOR FEMALES.

THIS institution is now open for the reception, care, and treatment of the independent class of patients who are laboring under mental derangement; or other nervous and chronic disease. We make special mention of nervous and chronic diseases, from the fact that seven tenths of the female patients that are committed to our public Asylums, to be treated for disordered minds, are reduced to that lamentable condition through previous physical disorder. By a well timed and judicious treatment of chronic and nervous diseases, all physical disorders, in the majority of cases may be removed; and thus the mind, having suffered through the medium of the body, will when free from the exciting physical cause, throw off the shackles that has bound it to worse than midnight darkness, and reason will, once more, resume its sway, clothed in all its primitive beauty and wonted excellence. Hence the necessity of all those, who are laboring under the predisposing or exciting causes, calculated in the end to impair the mind to resort to an early and judicious course of remedial agents.

The Institution is a large brick building with a stone basement—four stories high and well ventilated. It is situated on an elevated table land which commands a view of entire town—adjacent hills—groves and neighboring streams; all of which are calculated to produce favorable impressions upon the disordered mind.

The Institution is complete in all of its appointments. Having been tastefully fitted up at graet expense, in order that it may meet the approbation and views of the most fastidious.

The water closets and bathing apparatus have been gotton up upon the most approved modern scientific principles. This department embraces not only the ordinary baths but, also, the medicated, warm air and ascending and descending douche for the more effectual and successful treatment of cutaneous and other scrofulous diseases.

We beg leave to say to all those who may be disposed to commit the interests of a dear wife, sister or daughter, to our charge—may be assured that no means will be spared or efforts wanting on our part to ameliorate their condition or to effect a restoration to their accustomed health and vigor of mind.

For further particulars send for a circular. All communications should be addressed to.

CRITTENDEN'S PHILADELPHIA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

N. E. corner of 7th & Chestnut St.,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

THIS Institution, which was established in 1844, and is now consequently in the eigthteenth year of its existence, numbers among its graduates, hundreds of the most successful Merchants and Business Men of our Country.

The object of the Institution is solely to afford young men facilities for thorough preparation for business.

The branches taught are, Book-keeping, as applicable to the various departments of trade; Penmanship, both plain and ornamental; Commercial Law; mathematics, Navigation, Civil Engineering, Drawing, Phonography, and Modern Languages.

The system of Instruction is peculiar; no classes or set lessons are made use of, but each student is taught individually, so that he may commence at any time, and attend at whatever hours are most convenient.

Catalogues are issued annually after the 15th of April, containing names of the students for the year, and full particulars of terms, &c., and may be obtained at any time by addressing the Principal.

In extensive accommodations, wide-spread reputation, and the lengthy experience of the Principal, this Institution offers facilities superior to any other in the country, for young men wishing to prepare for business, and to obtain at the same time A DIPLOMA, which will prove a recommendation for them to any Mercantile House.

☞ CRITTENDEN'S Series of Treatises on Book-Keeping, now more widely circulated than any other work on the subject, are for sale at the College.

MARRIAGE.

ITS loves and hates, sorrows and angers, hopes and fears, regrets and joys; MANHOOD, how lost, how restored; the nature treatment and radical cure of spermaterrhœa or seminal weakness; involuntary emissions, sexual debility and impediments to marriage generally; nervousness, consumption, fits, mental and physical incapacity, resulting from SELF-ABUSE—are fully explained in the MARRIAGE GUIDE, by WM. YOUNG, M. D. This most extraordinary book should be in the hands of every young person contemplating marriage, and every man or woman who desires to limit the number of their offspring to their circumstances. Every pain, disease and ache incidental to youth, maturity and old age, is fully explained; every particle of knowledge that should be known is here given. It is full of engravings. In fact, it discloses secrets that every one should know; still it is a book that must be locked up, and not lie about the house. It will be sent to any one on the receipt of twenty-five cents in specie or postage stamps.

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES OF THE BRAVE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS And Ointment.

ALL WHO have Friends and Relatives in the Army or Navy, should take especial care that they be amply supplied with those Pills and Ointment; and where the brave Soldiers and Sailors have neglected to provide themselves with them, no better present can be sent them by their friends. They have been proved to be the Soldier's never-failing friend in the hour of need.

COUGHS AND COLDS AFFECTING TROOPS
Will be speedily removed and effectually cured by using these admirable medicines, and by paying proper attention to the Directions which are attached to each Pot or Box.

SICK HEADACHES AND WANT OF APPETITE INCIDENTAL TO SOLDIERS.

These feelings which so sadden us, usually arise from trouble or annoyances, obstructed perspiration, or eating and drinking whatever is unwholesome, thus disturbing the healthful action of the liver and stomach. These organs must be relieved, if you desire to be well. The Pills, taking according to the printed instructions, will quickly a produce a healthy action in both liver and stomach, and as a natural consequence a clear head and good appetite.

WEAKNESS OR DEBILITY INDUCED BY OVER FATIGUE,

Will soon disappear by the use of these invaluable Pills, and the Soldier will quickly acquire additional strength. Never let the bowels be either confined or unduly acted upon. It may seem strange that Holloway's Pills should be recommended for Dysentery and Flux, many persons supposing that they would increase the relaxation. This is a great mistake, for these Pills will correct the liver and stomach and thus remove all the acrid humors from the system. This medicine will give tone and vigor to the whole organic system however deranged, while health and strength follow as a matter of course. Nothing will stop the relaxation of the Bowels so sure as this famous medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ATTENTION! INDISCRETIONS OF YOUTH.

Sores and Ulcers, Blotchings and Swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Pills are taken night and morning, and the ointment be freely used as stated in the printed instructions. If treated in any other manner they dry up in one part to break out in another. Whereas this Ointment will remove the humors from the system and leave the Patient a vigorous and healthy man. It will require a little perseverance in bad cases to insure a lasting cure.

FOR WOUNDS EITHER OCCASIONED BY THE BAYONET, OR SABRE OR THE BULLET, SORES OR BRUISES.

To which every Soldier and Sailor are liable there are no medicines so safe, sure and convenient as Holloway's Pills and ointment. The poor wounded and almost dying sufferer might have his wounds dressed immediately, if he would only provide himself with this matchless Ointment, which should be thrust into the wound and smeared all around it, then covered with a piece of linen from his knapsack, and compressed with a handkerchief. Taking night and morning 6 or 8 Pills, to cool the system and prevent inflamation.

Every Soldier's knapsack and Seaman's chest should be provided with these valuable Remedies

CAUTION,—None are genuine unless the words "Holloway, New York and London," are discernable as a water-mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box: the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

 Sold at the Manufactory of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines, throughout the civilized world, in boxes at 25 cents, 62 cents and $1 each.

☞ There is considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each box.

GERMANTOWN TELEGRAPH.

A Family and an Agricultural Journal,

DEVOTED TO

CHOICE LITERATURE,

INCLUDING

Poetry, Noveleetts, Tales,

AND MORAL AND ENTERTAINING READING GENERALLY.

In the Literary Department we shall present the choicest varieties within the reach of our extended means. The Novelettes, Tales, Poetry, &c., shall be supplied from the best and highest sources, and be equal to anything to be found in any journal or magazine.

Agriculture and Horticulture,

EMBRACING

Farming, Gardening, Fruit-Raising, &c.

In all their branches, as conducted on the latest and most approved system.

Our labors in this department for over thirty years, have met the cordial approbation of the public. Our purpose has been to furnish useful and reliable information upon these very important branches of industry, and to protect them so far as within our power against the false doctrines and selfish purposes of the many empires and sensation-adventurers by which the Farmer is incessantly assailed. This portion of the Germantown Telegraph will alone be worth the whole price of subscription, as every Farmer and Gardener, who has a proper conception of his calling, will readily admit.

NEWS DEPARTMENT.

The same industry, care, and discrimination, in gathering and preparing the Stirring Events of the Day, expressly for this paper, which hitherto has been one of its marked features and given so universal satisfaction, will be continued with redoubled efforts to meet the increasing demands of the public. The labor required in this department is never fully appreciated by the reader. It would be impossible to present, the condensed and carefully made-up form in which it appears, a corrected mass of all the most interesting news of the week, without involving much physical labor, tact and judgment.

We annex the cash terms, to which we beg leave to call attention of all who think of subscribing for a newspaper:

Advance Cash Terms.

One copy, one year, $2; one copy, three years, $5,00; three copies, one year, $5,00; Five Copies, One Year, $8,00; Ten Copies, One Year, $15,00; Twenty Copies, One Year, $28,00.

☞ Subscription not paid within the year, $2,50.

☞ A Club of five subscribers, at $8, will entitle the person getting it up to a copy for six months; a Club of ten or more, to a copy for one year. All Club subscriptions stopped at the end of the time paid for, unless re-ordered.

☞ No order will receive attention unless accomplished with the cash.

☞ Specimen numbers sent to applicants.

"VANITY FAIR."

"This is the first really clever comic and satirical journal we have had in America—and really clever it is. It is both sharp and good-tempered, and not afraid to say that its soul is its own—which shows that it has a soul. Our readers will be glad to know where they can find native fun that has something better in it than mere patois."—Atlantic Monthly.

"This paper is excellent. . . . Remarkable for originality."—N. Y. Traveller.

"VANITY FAIR is conducted by a vivacious, witty and intelligent corps of journalists."—Litchfield (Conn.) Enquirer.

"Will wield as potent an influence as that of the London Punch."—Boston Traveller.

"Whosoever finds himself laughing at the wit of VANITY FAIR, and does not return a quid pro quo, is fit for treason, and spoils."—N. Y. Crayon.

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at your Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the DENTAL TREASURY, Price, ONE DOLLAR, which contains them.

NOW.

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD

The best evidences that they are is that the firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. Wm. B. Hurd is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburg questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.

The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his MOUTH WASH and TOOTH POWDER. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."

The well known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your TOOTH POWDER so good that my family have used it all up. We find it the best powder for the teeth we have ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with bill."

But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.

☞ Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acids nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.

WHAT WILL DR. HURD'S REMEDIES EFFECT?

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. To them, ladies.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day here more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the the best preparations in the world for curing bad breath and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, etc., etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.

Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having ARTIFICIAL TEETH, which are liable to impart a taint to the breath.

Dr. Hurd's Toothache Droops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering.

Farmers and mechanics! you cannot afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observations on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

NEURALGIA PLASTERS.—Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-Adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies ever prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Compress for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?

The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to happiness of those using them, and they wont them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the Neuralgia Plasters, and not a few enclosing 37 cts. for the Mouth W
